Work Experience

I have completed a 4-month internship focused on Python development. During this period, I worked on writing efficient code, debugging, and optimizing scripts. I gained hands-on experience with libraries such as Pandas and NumPy for data manipulation, and I contributed to automating tasks using Python scripts. Additionally, I collaborated on small projects, improving my understanding of object-oriented programming and data structures. This internship enhanced my problem-solving skills and strengthened my coding abilities.
