BUSINESS ANALYST

As a Business Analyst within the IT industry, I bring a wealth of experience encompassing Business Analysis, Project Management, Requirement Gathering, Sales and marketing, and the adept creation of various essential documents, such as BRD, Use Case Specifications, FRD, Customer Requirement Documents, and Workflow outlines.

My proven track record speaks to my proficiency in meticulous requirement analysis, demonstrating a keen ability to engage with stakeholders effectively to elicit both functional and non-functional requirements. My skill set extends to adeptly navigating pre-sales and post-sales (B2B/B2C) communications, showcasing a talent for managing regular meetings with clients to monitor project progress and provide timely updates.

Notably, my expertise has been prominently applied within the Magento framework, where I have successfully contributed to and navigated projects with precision and efficacy.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Business Analyst

CedCoss Technologies Pvt Ltd, Lucknow

April 2021 - Present

- In my role, I have been instrumental in crafting intricate systems models, detailed specifications, and visual aids such as diagrams and charts. These serve as comprehensive guides for developers, ensuring a clear and cohesive path throughout the project lifecycle.
- Addressing client queries and concerns is a key facet of my responsibilities, efficiently managing these through a ticketing system. This not only ensures timely issue resolution but also contributes to maintaining a robust client relationship.
- Taking charge of marketing activities, I have overseen strategic initiatives such as bulk mailing, advertising campaigns, and proactive client follow-ups. This multi-faceted approach has significantly contributed to the enhancement of our market presence and client engagement.
- A core aspect of my role involves developing project plans that align with the Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC) standards. Simultaneously, I uphold a commitment to transparency by providing regular and comprehensive status reports. These reports encompass various dimensions, including project milestones, sales metrics, client status, and team progress on a month-to-date basis.
- I actively engage in presenting weekly and monthly reports, offering insights into sales trends, current client statuses, and overall team progress. This data-driven approach aids in making informed decisions and strategizing for future endeavors.
- Additionally, I play a proactive role in keeping clients abreast of emerging e-commerce trends, positioning them ahead of the curve in their respective industries. Leveraging project management tools such as Trello and Clickup, I meticulously track development progress from conceptualization to implementation. This ensures that projects stay on course and are delivered with precision and efficiency.
